I am a Senior Robotics Engineer specialising in the full product lifecycle—from concept and simulation to continuous system integration and field deployment. I have 9+ years of experience in integration, state estimation, sensor fusion, SLAM, localisation, autonomous navigation, control, perception, computer vision, and troubleshooting on real hardware. I have reduced deployment time >10x across fleet of manufacturing robots and delivered 50% boost in localisation accuracy for fleet of RFID-based inventory robots, thus achieving centimeter precision. I am able to conduct research independently and materialise it into real-world development and deployment, with my aim being to bridge the two worlds in order to deliver cutting-edge systems with repeatable behaviours.
